“The times have changed...”

In the 90s, there was a place that resembled a library, but they did not carry books. Instead, they had these plastic, rectangular boxes that had movies in them. You may have guessed the name of this ancient place; it was called Blockbuster. Before the days of Netflix, Hulu Plus, Google Play, or Amazon Prime Video, we would make it a Blockbuster night. Today, in 2024, on-demand movies and TV look very different. For all you need to do is: make a couple clicks on your smart phone, tablet or TV, and you are watching the latest movie or TV series. The times have changed, technology has changed, and with it, the whole way our world enjoys entertainment.

In John 12:20-33, Jesus was bringing about change. When we take this story at face value, it sounds like the merchants and the moneychangers at the Temple had just started a business, and Jesus heroically busts this whole operation, like an undercover cop. However, this was far from the truth, for merchants and money changers had been a part of the Temple for a long time. Plus, they were not completely evil; they were providing a necessary service. Think of these merchants and money changers as an ancient convenience store. They provided sacrificial animals for purchase. Just think about it, it's a whole lot more convenient to use their services than trying to catch your own turtle doves and carry them to worship. This way, the people could purchase the animals when they arrived. Even more, the Temple did not accept money that had Caesar's face on it because it was considered idolatrous. Thus, the store would provide a currency exchange, so people could give money in the offering. With any kind of convenient store (back then or now), they make money by inflating their prices and charging extra fees for their services. Jesus was probably upset of how much the business folks were profiting from the Temple worshippers. Anyone who has bought snacks at a concession stand understands the highway robbery of price inflation.

I could just imagine angry Jesus storming into the Temple with his hand-made whip. After that most dramatic moment, I bet, that ancient congregation had their own opinion about “the change.” I could imagine some people were upset with Jesus messing up their worship routine. I could imagine some people would have been whispering amongst each other. Saying things like:

“But, that’s the way it’s always been done.”

“I liked the old way.”

“Why can’t we return to the glory days of old? The good ‘ole days of the Torah.”

“I don’t like this young rabbi Jesus, changing everything up.”

Throughout history, we have changed and evolved how we worship

God. Gone are the days of sacrificing animals on altars, but just as it was for the people back then, change can be hard. However, like a catchy, new song, after hearing it a couple times, we may start to like it. Then, before we know it, we have adapted to something new.

Blockbuster is a company that no longer exists because it ultimately failed to evolve and change with the times. With the advent of the internet and with the rise of its competitors, the company failed to adapt to the changing world. Blockbuster had a faulty way of thinking that if they kept doing what had always been done before, they would return to the glory days of old. Many of you have told me what St. John's United Church of Christ used to be like back in the day. You have told me about its glory days of old. How the church was the epicenter of the community. I have heard your laments of how you long for how it used to be, but the reality is the times have changed. Our culture and world have changed. Our technology has changed. As a church, the best thing we can do is to look forward. Look forward to how can we best change and evolve as a church:

- ◆ How can we serve our community today in 2024?
- ◆ How can we best reach people where they are in the digital world we live in? What parts of our church have become obsolete?
- ◆ What new things can we do?

The good news is that God will survive. Our faith in God will survive. Throughout the vast history of time, we, as God's creation, have not ceased to worship the One, who is beyond our understanding. What will change is our methods and ways we worship. My prayer is that our church will adapt itself to better fit into our community, and not think that the community needs to change to fit into our church.

Grace & Peace,
Pastor Cassandra

Step By Step

Sometimes the road of life takes us to a place we had planned... Sometimes it shows us a surprise around the bend that we could never have anticipated. We make decisions based on the information we have... We accept the ups and downs as they come... We live "one day at a time"... But often we find it is only when we look back that we can see that what we had thought was a "wrong turn" has brought us to exactly the right place and every step was a right step after all.

It is really hard for all of us to determine if we are taking the right steps in our lives. One thing for sure is if we flee temptation, do not leave a forwarding address! Evil will find you soon enough. No need to encourage it.

God is Love! No one has ever seen God; but if we love one another, God's love is made complete in us. So, if no one has ever seen God than how can we ever know God? Who ever lives in love, lives in God and God in him. Nothing sinful; or evil can exist in God's presence. God cannot and will not overlook, condone, or excuse a sin as though it never happened. Don't ever think that you're getting away with something because God knows!

If you are at a loss and don't know what to do with yourself, get up off your duff and go do something for others. Step by step, you'll get to know more about that other person, more about yourself, and more about God. Take that first step now. Be happy. Today is a beautiful day with boundless potential to do good. After all, you have the rest of your life to be miserable.

Stations of the Cross

As stated by Dennis Bratcher..." The Stations of the Cross refers to the liturgical practice of using various events in the final hours of Jesus' life as a structure for prayer and meditation (also called the Via Crucis or Way of the Cross). These events encompass Jesus' journey carrying his cross from the Hall of Pilate where he was condemned to death to the site of his execution on Golgotha (Calvary).

As part of their acts of devotion, early Christian pilgrims of Jerusalem retraced the route of Jesus as he carried his cross to his death. Early pilgrimages varied considerably with different starting places and different routes. As the practice developed in the medieval period, the starting point for this journey through the streets of Jerusalem began in the ruins of the Fortress of Antonia that originally housed Pilate's Judgment Hall. It concluded at the ancient Church of the Holy Sepulcher that marks the traditional site of Golgotha and the tomb of Jesus.

By the sixteenth century, the route this pilgrimage took through Jerusalem came to be called the Via Dolorosa, the Way of Sorrow. Along the Way, certain points on the journey (stations) were associated with specific events recounted (or implied) in the Gospel accounts."

As travel to this area became too dangerous and as many couldn't afford the trip, The Stations of the Cross were added to many towns and eventually the stations were permanently set up in cathedrals throughout Europe and even in the coliseum in Rome.

Today, traveling The Stations of the Cross is a powerful way to contemplate and enter the mystery of Jesus' gift of himself to us. You will begin a pilgrimage of prayer and meditation centered on the journey Jesus took on His way to be crucified. A station is just a place to stop, to take time to reflect and pray.

We invite you to stop by on Good Friday from 10:00AM – 1:00PM and 3:00 PM – 7:00 PM at Fourth and Faith. Spend some time in prayer and thought and meditation as you travel the Stations of the Cross.

Ten Things You Should Know About St. Patrick

- St. Patrick's Day is an annual feast day celebration of Ireland. It is traditionally a religious celebration on March 17th.
- St. Patrick was not Irish. He was from Wales. He is remembered for bringing Christianity to Ireland.
- The shamrock is Ireland's national flower. It is one of the main symbols of Saint Patrick's Day. The Shamrock represents the Holy Trinity.
- The leprechaun is an unfriendly Irish fairy. If you catch one, they are forced to tell you where their pot of gold is!
- Most people, even non-Irish wear green on this day. An Irish tradition is to pinch anyone who is not wearing green.
- Blue was the color associated with St. Patrick. In 1798 the color green became officially associated with the day.
- Corned beef, cabbage and green beer are traditional fare.
- Since 1962, the Chicago River is dyed green to celebrate the day.
- It is said that St. Patrick eliminated all the snakes from Ireland. However, history denies that Ireland was ever inhabited with snakes.
- St. Patrick's Day is now celebrated all around the world. Everyone is Irish on March 17th.

Israeli-Hamas Stations of the Cross

Inspired by our reading of Pastrix by Nadia Bolz-Weber, the Adult Contemporary Class put together our own Stations of the Cross using the Israeli-Hamas conflict as a backdrop. We chose details about the conflict that could be reflected in the well-known Stations. We hope you find both meaning and compassion in our choices.

Jesus Is Condemned: After World War II, the Jews were given their “homeland” displacing the inhabitants.

Jesus Carries His Cross: A Hamas attack on the Israeli Nova Music Festival led to Jewish hostages being taken.

Jesus Falls for the First Time: Jewish survivors at the Music Festival waited six hours for help to arrive.

Jesus Meets His Mother: The poet asks, “Mother, are you still alive?”

Simon Helps Carry the Cross: Doctors without Borders try to give aid.

Veronica Wipes Jesus’ Face: The borders are briefly opened for aid relief.

Jesus Falls for the Second Time: The borders are closed.

Jesus Meets the Women: At some of the hostages’ release, families were reunited.

Jesus Falls for the Third Time: Attacks continue.

Jesus Is Stripped: Even predesignated places of shelter have been bombed.

Jesus Is Nailed to the Cross: Hostilities are ingrained in competing cultures.

Jesus Dies: Three escaping Israeli hostages carrying a white flag are shot by Israeli forces.

Jesus Is Taken Down from the Cross: Negotiations break down.

Jesus Is Buried: The extent of devastation is realized.

The Adult Contemporary Class is aware that the burial of Jesus is not the end of the story. Just as we Christians await Easter; we all await the coming of peace in the Middle East.
