Sermon Rewind: The Seventy-Five Percent Rule

Every time I worked at Starbucks; I was ever reminded of what the customers wanted. As a customer myself, I completely understand. We, as customers, want to go to a food establishment that is nice-looking and has prompt service. If we are lucky to be at a place like Starbucks, they can customize drinks at nauseam: down to putting "only 4 ice cubes," in your iced latte, or even heating your hot chocolate to "exactly 140 degrees." Sometimes, we think of the church like a fast food place with the same desire to order exactly what we want. We want the short sermon and hymns combo with a right mix of old and new hymns. We also would like a side of fellowship and hugs. Like Burger King, we sometimes want to "Have It Our Way!" Like McDonalds, we want to sit in the service and say, "I'm loving it." However, if we treat the church like our favorite drive-thru, then we are doing church all wrong. In Romans 12:3-13, the Apostle Paul gives us an example of what the church is supposed to look like. He describes the church as one community with many individuals. All the individuals have different talents and needs. But, despite everything that makes people different, they are one community, one family.

When I was growing up, my mother cooked so much Mexican food during the holiday season. My favorite was her red and green chile enchiladas. My mom would also make dishes that I did not particularly care for, like chili con carne and posole. Just because I did not like them, it did not mean that my Mom would stop making them. There were folks in the family who loved those dishes. So, when I went through the buffet line, I learned to take what I liked and what was nourishing to me and leave what was not. I did not get mad if she had other options that I did not like. In the same way, in our church services, we should take what is helpful and leave what is not. For it is no surprise that everybody will not like everything about a church service. On any given Sunday, we probably will not like something. But, we should remember, church is not just about you, it's not just about me, church is about "we." Church is about all of us.

I once heard of a UCC pastor, who has a Seventy-Five Percent Rule at her church. She said, "When we gather together to worship on Sundays, everyone should be happy with no more than 75% of the church service. If we are happy more than 75% of the time, that means that one person's preferences are being dominantly expressed." So, to accommodate a diverse congregation, there is something in the service for everyone. In our church services, let us take what is helpful and nourishing to us, and leave what is not, remembering that it's our 25%. Let us remember, while something may not be reaching you, it is ministering to your friend in the next pew.

Days of Our Lives

Those of you who know me know that I am a soap opera fan. I have watched "Days of Our Lives" for over 50 years. Now, don't laugh at me! I know that it is a waste of time and that if I miss a whole week of shows, it will pick up only a few hours past the last time I watched it. Time travels slowly on a soap opera. Except for children, one week they are 6 years old and the next week they are doctors or lawyers.

But I don't watch the show because the story lines are so interesting (actually they are pretty stupid). All the characters have so many problems, that it makes my problems seem insignificant. The thing about dilemmas on soap-operas is that most of the problems could easily be solved...if only the actors would tell the truth. Of course, isn't that what all of us should do? However, instead of facing the problem head on and being honest about it, the characters try to lie their way out of the situation. Sooner or later, the situation becomes so complicated with lie upon lie that no one is quite sure where the lie stops, and the truth begins.

Deceiving each other has been going on since the time of Adam. Why does it seem so much easier to fabricate an elaborate story than to just tell the truth in the first place? Sure, it might make you look bad but not nearly as bad as you are going to look when the truth is revealed, and everyone realizes you have been lying the entire time.

Ephesians 5:25 says: "Stop lying to each other; tell the truth, for we are parts of each other and when we lie to each other we are hurting ourselves."

How many of us would hurt ourselves on purpose? Virtually, none of us. That would be ridiculous! And yet, here is Paul reminding us that when we hurt others, we are only causing harm to ourselves. And if we continue to hold grudges against anyone who sins against us, we are sinning also. Do we even recognize what we're doing? Probably not. All we are focused on is getting revenge.

I'll be honest here: recently a few people at this church said and did some things that hurt me deeply. What to do? My first thought was: "they are not going to get away with this. I'm going to make sure that everyone knows what they are really like." Then I thought, "Do I really want to make an episode of "Days of Our Lives" out of it. Just like in a soap opera, I was not sure if I could forgive the wrong-doers. But then again, pursuing it would only drag it out and cause more hurt feelings.

What's that old saying? LET GO AND LET GOD. I may enjoy watching the crazy episodes of "Days of Our Lives," but, I know that God is in charge of the "The Days of My Life."

Women's Bible Study

ADVENT, ACTS, & APOCALYPSE

Hard to believe that it is time to start our fall activities again. Where did summer go?

I am really not in the mood yet to delve into a deep, serious Bible study, so instead join me in a collection of captivating scenes that show us a fresh light into the growth and bumps along the way of the early church. The cast of Ted Swartz and Company bring a funny, challenging, insightful, completely unique perspective to the stories of the New Testament. You will be guaranteed to laugh!

Women's Bible study is on Tuesday afternoons in the conference Room starting at 2:00 and usually lasts about an hour. These DVD's only last about 8 minutes so we have plenty of time for discussion. The nice thing about Bible study is that there is no formal commitment; come when you can, we are always glad to see you. Talk if you feel the urge, ask questions, or just listen. It's all ok! Plan on trying us out this year; no age limit. We will start on Tuesday, September 12. Hope to see you there!

Needles and Hookers NEEDED!

How many churches do you know of that actually try to recruit Needles and Hookers? We stand out in a crowd, don't we? The thing is you don't even have to be experienced!

We have some ladies who have been doing this for years and are more than happy to instruct the newcomers on the tricks of the trade.

Perhaps you haven't done this for a long, long time, but you should have no problem remembering how. We will be working on scarves for the county-wide giveaway in November.

Starting Monday, September 11 in the parlor, we will meet every Monday afternoon at 2:00 pm. until about 3:30 pm. Don't worry about the yarn because we have plenty in Pastor Dotty's office.

The scarves don't need to be perfect; they just need to be warm and made with love. If you are not sure about knitting or crocheting yet, just stop into chat. We enjoy that too!

Hispanic Heritage Month

Friends, I just wanted to let you know about an awesome opportunity we all have this fall to learn more about our Guatemalan neighbors. Hispanic Heritage Month begins on September 15th and lasts until October 15th. Within that month a variety of activities, and educational opportunities will take place. And they will cost you nothing.

Beginning September 20th at the Dover Public Library at 6:30pm you can hear the story of two immigrants in different eras of history, one from Italy and one from Guatemala, and how their immigration stories compare and contrast.

On Thursday, September 28th at the library at 6:30, you can listen to local author, Melissa Kay Herrera as she discusses her book, telling of her husband's search for a place to call home, Toño Lives.

On Saturdays, September 30th, and October 7th, come to the library again at 10:30am to hear two guest storytellers as they share a bilingual book and perhaps learn some Spanish words.

On Tuesday, October 3rd, come to our own Fourth & Faith to listen to some community members share with us how their lives have been enriched by developing special relationships with people from different cultures.

On Saturday, October 7th, come to the YMCA for a day, from noon till 3:00PM, filled with music and food and arts and crafts which are part of our part of the culture of our Latino neighbors. Win a raffle basket by touring some local tienditas (little store) and attending scheduled programs.

And finally on October 19th, again come to Fourth & Faith for Taco Thursday and at 6:30 a presentation about the history and culture of Guatemala by Jeff Bray. Jeff, who is an advocate for the Guatemalan community, will speak to the current challenges our Latino neighbors face.

So, stop by the library or the YMCA or Fourth and Faith between September 15th and October 3rd and pick up an Event Stamp Booklet. Come to any or all of the above programs and visit some of the local tienditas (little store), have your booklet stamped, and then turn it in at the YMCA on October 3rd for special drawings.

So, join the fun and activities, and learn about our neighbors who have, as a culture, lived with us for over 30 years!!

Stay Tuned...

Just a short reminder that chair yoga will be picking up again this fall. Actually, we never stopped, but we did slow down a little bit and went from two days a week to one day a week. Previously we had it on Monday and Thursday mornings starting at 10:00 am. It is a low-stress, relaxing half hour to concentrate on yourself. You are not in competition, even with the person standing next to you. Some days we have 8 and other days 18. Some are from the church and some are not. If you know someone who might be interested, reach out to them to come. There is no fee! Just wear comfortable clothes and show up. Stay tuned for when the fall starting date is.

Update Contact Information PLEASE!

The office is going to try to update the membership list, but we need your help. For the next several Sundays, please fill out a white visitor's card from the pew (even if you ARE NOT a visitor), or call the church office at 330-364-4458, or email us at dotty@doverstjohns.org. Many long-time members have changed their addresses or given up their landlines. We need a current address and phone number for all of you. Please include any e-mail address that you may use and please write legible, so we can read it.

Also, could you update us on your children's current names, addresses, and phone numbers. Your children's names are listed underneath yours on our roster, but I feel a little silly sending a birthday card to your address for your daughter who is 54 years old, has been married for 25 years and lives in Utah! I don't like to miss anyone, but sometimes I have to if I don't have the correct information. Besides, the updates will help get Rev. Cassandra oriented as to who lives where and who belongs to whom. Thanks for your help!

Adult Contemporary Class

Returning to Really Bad Girls of the Bible by Liz Curtis Higgs, the Adult Contemporary Class will take up where we left off with Just Desserts, the story of Herodias, the niece of Herod. We find out that she is one more member of that extremely dysfunctional family. Join us in the Conference Room on Sunday, September 10 at 9:00. This is a group that speaks frankly about the lessons of the scriptures, laughs openly and honestly, and makes friends along the way.

Neighbors in Need

In 2023, the Neighbors in Need "BEHOLD!" theme continues. This year's focus is on environmental justice. Plastics, electronics, and other non-compostable wastes are being shipped across, and even tossed into, our waterways, launched into space, and buried in landfills. As people of faith, we believe these egregious acts are sinful and unholy. We must be better stewards of our planet!

Please join us in promoting this year's NIN campaign at your church! Many churches will collect the offering on Sunday, October 1, as part of World Communion Sunday.

Christmas in July

This year our theme for Christmas in July was "Look to the Son."

We collected 100 pairs of sun glasses in all shapes and sizes. We also collected 45 bottles of suntan lotion.

It did not take very long to empty the line of our "Christmas Presents." All except one pair of sun glasses were taken.

Thanks to all of you who contributed in sharing God's love with our neighbors.

Recycle -- Aluminum Cans!

When you and your neighbor recycle aluminum cans, you are addressing the problem of global warming. Cans may be placed in the big brown box in the handicap parking lot. The box was built by Sawyer Thomson as part of his Eagle Scout project. Rudy Tschantz will take the cans to Speedy Salvage. The money received from the cans will go to the organ maintenance fund.

Heritage Home Christmas Tour of Homes 2023

Exciting news - The sanctuary of St. John's will be a featured stop on the Christmas Tour of Homes this year.

The Heritage Home Association is also looking for homeowners who love to decorate for Christmas and would like to open their home to visitors for this event on Sunday, December 10th from 12pm to 5pm. Please contact Patti Strickling of the Heritage Home Association at 330-987-9614 if interested or with any questions.

Horse by Geraldine Brooks weaves a story of high-stakes horse racing with the lost history of unsung black horsemen.
